An integrated picture of the development of Egyptian culture is provided by this thorough exhibit.

After that, you'll eat lunch in a casual eatery close by.

And we'll continue our journey by going to the Sultan Hassan El Refaai Mosque. The structure included a mosque, a school for the four schools of thought—"Shafi'i, Hanafi, Maliki, and Hanbali"—as well as two libraries for calligraphy instruction and the sciences of Qur'anic interpretation. The Prophet Muhammad's hadith and the seven readings were also taught there.

Then you will back to the hotel to have your dinner and stay there.

Day 4: Visiting The City of Luxor

After breakfast, you'll get ready to go to Luxor, relax up, and check into a hotel.

The 200-acre Karnak Temple, which includes the Temple of Amun-Ra, other temples, and a mud brick wall with eight gates that was constructed by a king of the Thirty-first Dynasty, is the greatest deity-honored monument in the entire globe.

You will then proceed to the Great Temple of Luxor after this. It was constructed under the rule of the
