Explore the amazing biodiversity on a walking bird-watching trip around Aswan, which is a tranquil destination famous for its vivid natural surroundings. Situated next to the banks of the Nile, Aswan provides a rich habitat for many species of birds, both migratory and resident. The excursion will take you to a few key spots for bird watching, such as the tranquil islands of Aswan, hosting many species of waterfowl, raptors, and waders. Whether you are a veteran bird watcher or a nature lover, this tour gives you the chance to witness beautiful birds in their natural habitat.

During the tour, a knowledgeable guide will take you to the best spots for bird watching, such as the Aswan Botanical Gardens, where the lush greenery provides shelter to many birds. You will also visit nearby islands, such as Kitchener's Island, a paradise for birdwatchers that harbors a variety of species that are adapted to the habitat's peculiar ecosystem. Expect to see the likes of graceful herons, elegant egrets, colorful kingfishers, and maybe even the majestic Nubian ibex.

The tour will be a relaxing and educational affair, ideal for those wishing to foster a connection with nature and enjoy the tranquility of the Nile. As you view the birds in their habitat, you will take home some fond memories, learn about their migratory routes, and witness the rich biodiversity that Aswan offers. With its calm ambiance, varied birdlife, and picturesque scenery, this bird-watching tour grants one more opportunity to appreciate the beauty of Egypt from a different perspective.

Aswan Bird Watching Tour

Your tour leader represents the group and picks you up from your hotel in Aswan for a delightful bird-watching adventure.

Enjoy a scenic journey toward the felucca sailboat, which will transfer you across the tranquil Nile River.

Set sail towards Lord Kitchener's Island, a sanctuary for several migratory and resident species of birds. Spend time observing many birds such as herons, kingfishers, and egrets. Your guide will discuss the various species and their behavior.

Continue sailing to Agha Khan Mausoleum, taking in the view of green vegetation consisting of acacia trees and lantana. This serene place attracts both migratory and local birds, making it an excellent destination for birdwatching amid blooming flowers and shade.

Look for nearby birdlife along the East Bank and West Bank of the Nile River as you sail back. Your guide will explain all the noted bird species, lending further insight into the ecological richness of the area of Aswan.

As an unscheduled afternoon bird-watching spree, your tour leader will take you back to your hotel for the farewell end of the tour in Aswan.
