Day Tour to Luxor from Cairo by Air

Luxor Temple: Built to worship the god Amun, this temple was built by the Pharaohs, and Ramses II built two statues depicting him seated, bordered on the north-eastern part by the Al-Hajjaj Mosque. Karnak Temple Complex: A group of beautiful temples, built thousands of years ago, the temples include statues of the god Amun, his wife and his son, and Karnak is called the fortress. A visit to the amazing city of Luxor will give you the opportunity to visit the East and West Bank of Luxor.

Head to the West Bank and discover the hieroglyphic-covered chambers of the Valley of the Kings, the mountain tombs of 62 rulers of ancient Egypt, and learn about the pharaohs who were once buried here. Next, visit the stunning Temple of Queen Hatshepsut and stop to see the towering statues of Memnon as your guide reveals fascinating facts about these ancient monuments.

Explore the tourist market street in Luxor, one of the most important tourist destinations that distinguish the ancient city, as the market includes more than 150 tourist bazaars, about 500 metres long, and witnesses a large number of tourists wishing to buy fake Pharaonic antiques, Pharaonic and popular Egyptian clothes, as well as spices, perfume and others, as well as cafes, cafes and restaurants.
