Islamic Cairo Tour

Have a new distinguishable tour seeing the impressive architecture that is immortal for hundred years. After that meet your guide from Cairo Top Tours meeting you in the hotel and leading you to the Citadel of Salah El-Din and Mohammed Ali Mosque. The Citadel, one of Salah El Din's prominent construction that was built to encircle the Fustat and Cairo streets, is massively built to protect the great capital. It's also situated on a high plateau, allowing for stunning panoramic views of Cairo as it was constructed in 1176 A.D. by the Arab Sultan Salah El-Din to protect Cairo during the Crusader battles led by King Richard the Lionhearted. Make sure to be ready for an informative and exciting tour!

The Citadel functioned as both a military fortress and the administrative hub of Egypt from its inception until the 1950s. One of the most popular tourist attractions in Cairo, the Mohammed Ali Mosque, was constructed during the early 1800s and is identifiable by its twin, pointed minarets situated atop the Citadel.

Next, we will continue with our tours of Cairo's attractive cities and visit the renowned Sultan Hassan Mosque, also referred to as the Pyramid of Islamic Architecture, constructed in the 13th century. This mosque is considered a symbol of Islamic art and architecture. Additionally, the complex contained four madrasas that educated students on the four rites of the Sunni sect of Islam, as well as housing for non-local students.

Before heading to the Ibn Tulun Mosque, which is the oldest mosque in Cairo, you should visit the Rifai Mosque as well as the tombs of King Farouk and Mohammed Bahalawi, the last Shah of Iran. At the Ibn Tulun Mosque, you can climb its minarets to enjoy the breathtaking view of the city. Afterward, take a break and have a delicious lunch at a fine restaurant. Then, explore the ancient gates of Cairo, which have existed for over a thousand years. Start your explorations at Bab Zuweila and El Moez Street, which is the world's largest open-air museum of Islamic art.

Conclude your tour at Khan el-Khalili, the local bazaar comprising a complex network of narrow passageways. This marvelous market is among the largest in the world and provides an authentic shopping experience. Once you finish exploring, try the Egyptian tea or coffee at a historic café like Fishawy.

Upon completion of your travels to Cairo, transportation will be provided to return to your accommodation in either Giza or Cairo.
