When thinking of Egypt, the pyramids are undoubtedly the first thing that comes to mind during Egypt day tours. No other country in the world has structures as magnificent as those found there, and the pyramids are almost the only building that is associated with as many myths. Regarding the building's intended use and the construction method, researchers continue to disagree. We'll take you to learn more about the Great Pyramid of Giza, also known as Cheops Pyramid, the Pyramid of Khafre, also known as Chephren Pyramid, the Pyramid of Menkaure, also known as Mecerinus Pyramid, as well as the Great Sphinx of Giza. Greater Cairo, in the Arab Republic of Egypt, is where the Pyramids of Giza complex can be found.

Additionally, you will see during Egypt WheelChair Accessible day tour Saqqara (Egypt's Oldest Pyramid), the Step pyramid of Djoser, which is famous and draws many tourists to it during their Egypt Travel Packages. It is the oldest pyramid ever built among those attributed to Egyptian civilization. Saqqara Necropolis | Egypt Oldest Pyramid was a special place where the kings and queens of ancient Egypt were buried before the third dynasty. We'll also take you to the Ahmad Ibn Tulun Mosque, which is the oldest Islamic structure in Egypt, and then to the Gayer Anderson Museum.

You can have a fun adventure and learn a lot about Egypt by visiting The National Museum Of Egyptian Civilization \(NMEC\). It's like going back in time and exploring all the cool stuff there.

Your private tour guide will meet you after breakfast at your Cairo hotel to begin your Day Tours to the famous Giza Plateau, where you will see the Great Pyramid of Cheops, which is the only one of the seven man-made wonders of the ancient world that are still standing, as well as the pyramids of Chephren and Mycerinus, which were built by the ancestors of Cheops and Snefru, the founder of the 4th dynasty, the Great Sphinx and the mummification temple or also known as the Valley Temple facing the imposing statue, our visit to the plateau includes a panoramic view to have a scenery view and take the best photo session during the Giza pyramids tour together and have a camel ride in Giza Pyramids (optional activity).

Let's turn over to Saqqara Necropolis to see the Step pyramid complex and the world's first building made entirely of stone (Djoser Step Pyramid). The tour (does not include) the entrance to the Teti pyramid, which among the accessible pyramids has the most magnificent interior, and the Noble Tombs at Saqqara, which were constructed for the husbands of two of King Teti's daughters, to give visitors an understanding of daily life in ancient Egypt, with all of its activities depicted in writing and paintings on the walls and corridors of those 4,000-year-old tombs.

The Ahmad Ibn Tulun Mosque, one of the earliest Islamic structures in Egypt built in 879, will be our next stop. It is regarded as one of the hanging mosques and was constructed on a rocky peak called "Shukr" on Mokattam Mountain. It features Egypt's first spiral minaret.

But if you're curious, What did Ibn Tulun's mosque serve? It provided refuge for pilgrims heading from North Africa to the Hijaz in the 12th century. The grand congregational mosque served as the focal point of Al-Qata'i, the capital of Ibn Tulun and the seat of the Tulunid dynasty. When you visit this mosque, you'll see that it's a unique example of a mosque that survived the classical Islamic era.

finally, at the end of this Tour, you will visit Gayer Anderson an English officer who completed his medical studies in London and was appointed to the medical department of the English army in 1904, then he moved to the service of the English army in Egypt in 1907.

The museum was made up of two Ottoman-era houses from the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries that had been combined into one house. He exhibits his archaeological collection of artifacts from the Pharaonic, Islamic, and Asian eras in them, provided that the Egyptian people inherit the furniture and the artifacts after his passing or when he departs Egypt permanently.

finally, we will take you to your hotel in Cairo or Giza.
