The Giza pyramids:

one of the ancient places around the world Giza Pyramids, The ancient Egyptian kings believed in the concept of having a second life after death. Therefore, They built the pyramids to be their second home with all of their possessions and mummified bodies. The date of construction of the monument is 2500 BC. The pyramids were built to be in a pyramidal shape to receive the soul again.

The Cairo Tower:

one of the longest structures in Egypt Cairo Tower is located in the heart of Cairo on the island of Zamalek on the Nile, Granite is the same material used by the ancient Egyptians and is considered a symbol in itself as a result of its unique composition and distinctive shape. The lotus-like shape of the building we see was not the result of chance; In fact, the lotus was an important symbol for the ancient Egyptians, because it was the plant used to make papyrus. The tower enables you to see the city from the highest point and explore all its areas. It also has a spinning restaurant inside it.

Then you will be taken to your drop-off location at Port Said.
