The Egyptian Museum is the oldest archaeological museum in the Middle East and houses the largest collection of ancient Egyptian antiquities in the world. The museum displays a large collection spanning from the pre-dynastic period to the Greek and Roman periods.

Saladin Citadel:

Salah al-Din Castle is located in the "Citadel" neighborhood that follows the Caliph's Department. It was built on one of the hills separated from Mount Mokattam on the outskirts of Cairo. The Castle of Salah al-Din, or what is known as the Castle of the Mountain, is one of the most important landmarks of Islamic Cairo, which does not resemble any fortress. Traditional, which made it one of the most important tourist attractions in Cairo.

Khan El Khalili Bazar:

If we go back in time a lot, we will see the most famous Arab historian (Al-Maqrizi), who says that the khan is a large square building that surrounds a courtyard and resembles an agency, the lower layer of which includes shops, and the upper layers include stores and housing. He was the chief merchant in the era of Sultan Barquq in 1400 AD.

then have your overnight in your hotel.
