Amazing Tour to Jeddah Historical

Enjoy a wonderful tour to the city of Jeddah in Saudi Arabia. It has a lot of great museums and old places to visit, but it's also known for having a lot of new and fun things too. People have even broken a lot of world records there! If you go to Jeddah, you can try to see all these amazing things and maybe even set a record!

Historic Jeddah is a special place that shows how people used to build things near the Red Sea a long time ago. The way they built things is different from other places, and there are only a few places left that look like this. The buildings are tall and fancy, with pretty decorations on them. There are also smaller houses, mosques, markets, and little open areas that make the whole place lively and exciting.

The Roshan tower houses in Jeddah are special buildings that are different from other buildings in the Arab and Muslim world. They were designed to be comfortable in the hot and humid weather of the Red Sea and to accommodate pilgrims traveling to the Holy City of Makkah. These houses became popular in the 1800s because of changes in trade and transportation, like the opening of the Suez Canal. They are important because they are a unique part of Jeddah's history and culture, and they have influenced the architecture in nearby cities as well. However, many of these buildings have disappeared due to modern development.
