The next stop is Black Desert, which is located slightly to the north of White Desert and follows the Bahariya Oasis. The name of this desert derives from the thin layer of black powder that coats all of its rocks, mountains, and desert. You will eat lunch here.

On day four, after breakfast, a cool vehicle will take you to the Farafra Oasis, the last oasis in the western desert, where your tours will begin.

The Badr Museum in Farafra Oasis stands out for the natural aspects of his paintings, which depict nature and the realities of everyday life.
