On the way to the Giza Necropolis, your Egyptologist tour guide will provide you with a historical overview of Egypt. The Pyramid of King Cheops, which was erected by the king during his reign 4500 years ago, is visible when you reach the Giza plateau. Huge structures that served as burial tombs for Egyptian kings and rulers were a common feature of the time of the pyramids.

The hike leads to the higher plateau, where you can see the second pyramid of King Chephren, the Giza plateau, and the burial pyramids of King Mycerinus. While having a great opportunity for a camel riding tour in Giza Pyramids (optional excursion) and your Bedouin guide will capture breathtaking photos for you while holding the pyramid between your hands. You will visit the Valley Temple, where the mummification process of the king took place, and you will see the famous figure of a man-headed lion known worldwide as the Great Sphinx, which was thought to be carved for King Chephren himself.
