During the approximately two-hour drive to Alexandria, you'll have the opportunity to stop at a nearby rest area, where you can refresh with a drink, use the restroom, or stretch your legs. Once you reach Alexandria, your first stop will be Pompey's Pillar, the sole remaining Roman temple pillar, standing tall on a rocky plateau amidst the ruins of the ancient Serapeum. Next, you'll visit the magnificent Citadel of Qaitbay, a medieval fortress built by the Mamluk Sultan in 1477 AD, which stands on the site of the legendary ancient lighthouse, one of the seven wonders of the ancient world.
